Raffle Results Dwarf Doll House Size

It was a lesson in financial leveraging, and in seasonal joy.

Medford's Costco Warehouse donated a $149.99 doll house to the Asante Foundation for use as a raffle prize. The Foundation sold tickets for $5 apiece or five for $20 before giving away the doll house again – this time to an Asante Rogue Regional Emergency Department employee with two young daughters and a young stepdaughter.

Along the way, the raffle brought in $2,020 – all of which will go to the Foundation-sponsored Children's Miracle Network to benefit local pediatric patients.

And three young girls are thrilled with their new "Far, Far Away Doll House" – a pink palace that measures nearly five feet tall and five feet wide.

Christine Madden's ticket was the winner in the Dec. 10 raffle drawing at the Ramblin' Rogue Café. The patient access representative in Asante Rogue Regional's Emergency Department said she has four children, including two daughters, along with a stepdaughter. Her partner is Jason Libby, a security officer at Asante Rogue Regional.

A total of 118 people – including a handful of non-employees – purchased tickets during the four day raffle.

The Asante Foundation promotes several programs and that support the Children's Miracle Network, an alliance of 170 premier non-profit hospitals in the U.S. that provide pediatric care to a total of 17 million children annually.

Asante Rogue Regional has served as the Children's Miracle Network hospital for Southern Oregon and Northern California since 1988. Asante Three Rivers Medical Center more recently became a Children's Miracle Network hospital, and together the two facilities serve thousands of children each year.
