Wound care seminar coming to Asante

Asante clinicians are encouraged to register ahead of time for a full- or half-day advanced wound care clinic that will be held on Friday, Sept. 9, at the Smullin Health Education Center in Medford.

The clinic – “Moving Wound Care to the Next Level” – is intended for physicians, advanced practitioners, nurses, physical and occupational therapists, and others in direct patient care. Participants will learn strategies for preventing and treating pressure injuries, preserving limbs, assessing and treating difficult-to-heal wounds, and working with infections of foot and ankle bones.

The day’s seminars will be led by Ann Avery, a San Diego nurse, clinical specialist and speaker on wound care; and Mario Ponticello, a podiatrist and wound-care specialist who serves at the Madigan Army Medical Center in Tacoma.

The cost of the clinic for physicians is $120 for the full day or $65 for either the morning or afternoon session. The cost for other clinicians is $100 for the full day or $55 for a half-day session.

The clinic will begin at 7:30 a.m. and will wrap up at 4:30 p.m.

Those who participate in the clinic will receive course handouts, hands-on product overviews and an emailed certificate of completion. Lunch is included with either full-day or half-day registration.
