Asante Physician Partners Adds Providers in March

The roster of Asante Physician Partners grew in March by three providers – two physicians and a physician assistant. One is working in Medford and two in Grants Pass.

Asante Physician Partners has been actively increasing its staff of providers over the past several months for its clinics in Medford, Grants Pass, Ashland and Talent.

Neha Didwaniya, M.D., a hospitalist in Grants Pass, and Erin Turner, M.D., a pediatric hospitalist in Medford, both joined Asante on March 16. Lynn Wood, a physician assistant for family medicine in Grants Pass, began work on March 2.

Dr. Didwaniya earned a medical degree from Government Medical College in Nagpur, India, in 2007, then served a residency in internal medicine at Creighton University in Nebraska from 2009 to 2012, and a fellowship in hospice and palliative medicine at MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston from 2012 to 2013. Dr. Didwaniya served as a hospitalist and internist at North Bend Medical Center in Coos Bay from September 2013 to April 2014, and worked in primary care at the Baylor College of Medicine outpatient community health center from April 2014 until accepting the position at Asante.

Dr. Turner received her medical degree from the University of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health in 2009, then served a pediatric internship and residency at American Family Children's Hospital at the University of Wisconsin from 2009 to 2012, and a pediatric critical care fellowship for Seattle Children's Hospital at the University of Washington from 2013 until accepting the position at Asante. She was the pediatrics chief resident and global health chief resident at the University of Wisconsin Department of Pediatrics from 2012 to 2013.

Lynn Wood earned certification from the physician assistant program at St. John's University in New York in June 2014, and has gained clinical experience in internal medicine, pediatrics, OB/GYN, cardiothoracic intensive care, orthopedics, emergency medicine, geriatrics, primary care and general surgery at various New York hospitals.
